1/ Study buddy

Type "learn,"

Then copy and paste a couple pages of your online text into ChatGPT,

(It has an input limit, so play within it)

Ask it to spit out study questions.

Now you've got a virtual study buddy.

Give me 10 study questions on the material I just provided

1. What is the primary goal of accounting and what are the key financial statements produced by the process?
2. How does financial accounting differ from managerial accounting in terms of the audience and purpose of the information?
3. What are the characteristics of financial statements that are produced according to Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP)?
4. What role does managerial accounting play in a manager's decision-making process?
5. How does the type of business operation (service, merchandising, or manufacturing) affect the use of managerial accounting?

2/ Tutor

ChatGPT is like your own personal tutor.

It can:

- Simplify complex topics
- Provide specific answers to questions
- Check equations, facts and definitions

solve for y in the following equation:  $4x + (3y+4)i = 21+7i$

To solve for y in the equation  $4x + (3y+4)i = 21+7i$ , we need to isolate the variable y. The first step is to get all the terms with y on one side of the equation and all the other terms on the other side. To do this we need to subtract 4x from both sides:

$$4x + (3y+4)i - 4x = 21+7i - 4x$$

This gives us:

$$(3y+4)i = 21+7i - 4x$$

Now we can isolate the y variable by dividing both sides by 3:

Give me a quick summary of moby dick

Moby-Dick is a classic novel by Herman Melville, published in 1851. The story is narrated by Ishmael, a sailor who signs up for a whaling voyage as a way to escape the land and perhaps himself. The ship, the Pequod, is captained by Ahab, a monomaniacal figure who is obsessed with revenge against a giant white sperm whale. The whale destroyed Ahab's ship and leg on a previous voyage, and Ahab is determined to destroy the whale at any cost. As the ship sails out to sea, Ishmael and the crew become increasingly uneasy about Ahab's madness and the ship's mission. Along the way, they have a series of encounters with whales, some of which end tragically. Eventually, Ahab's obsession leads to the destruction of the ship and the loss of many lives, including Ahab's. The novel is a complex exploration of themes such as obsession, the nature of evil, and the relationship between humanity and nature.

Moby-Dick, written by Herman Melville in 1851, is a novel that delves into complex themes such as obsession, the nature of evil, and the relationship between humanity and nature. The story, narrated by Ishmael, a sailor who signs up for a whaling voyage as a way to escape the land and perhaps himself, centers around the ship, the Pequod, and its monomaniacal captain, Ahab, who is obsessed with revenge against a giant white sperm whale.

One of the main themes in the novel is obsession. Ahab's obsession with the white whale is all-consuming and ultimately leads to the destruction of the ship and the loss of many lives, including Ahab's. Ahab's obsession is not limited to the whale, but extends to everything around him, including his crew and his ship. He is so fixated on his goal that he becomes blind to the consequences of Herman Melville's Moby-Dick is a masterful exploration of several complex themes, including obsession, the nature of evil, and the relationship between humanity and nature. The novel, narrated by Ishmael, a sailor who joins a whaling voyage as a means of escape, centers around the ship Pequod and its Captain, Ahab, whose all-consuming obsession with avenging a giant white sperm whale leads to the destruction of the ship and the loss of many lives, including his own.

One of the central themes of the novel is obsession. Ahab's obsession with the white whale is not limited to the creature itself, but extends to everything around him, including his crew and his ship. He becomes so fixated on his goal that he becomes blind to the consequences of his actions and the well-being of those around him. This theme is further reinforced by the fact that the crew is also

Write a sonnet about making money in the style of Yoda

Money, wealth and riches, hmm?
A path to true success, you seek?
To gain them, work you must,
with focus, patience, and discipline, hmm?

Earning wealth, not a simple task
Many traps and pitfalls, there are
But with knowledge and foresight, success, you will embark, hmm?

To make money, start small, hmm?
A seed, a sapling, grow it must
Invest wisely, and diversify
A strong foundation, you will trust, hmm?
