Open Library

Search millions of books on Open Library, (available through digital lending).

All it takes to get a ‘library card’?

An email address.

openlibrary.org

Coursera

Browse an extensive list of free courses from top companies and universities.

World-class instruction = master the material

The screenshot shows the Coursera website interface. At the top, there's a search bar with the placeholder "What do you want to learn?". Below the search bar, there are navigation links for "Online Degrees", "Find your New Career", "For Enterprise", "For Universities", "Log In", and "Join for Free". The main content area features a large, green-tinted banner for the "Google Data Analytics Professional Certificate". The banner includes the Coursera logo, a search bar, and the course title "Google Data Analytics Professional Certificate". It also mentions that it's offered by Google. Below the banner, there's a brief description of the program: "This is your path to a career in data analytics. In this program, you'll learn in-demand skills that will have you job-ready in less than 6 months. No degree or experience required." A rating section shows "4.8 stars" and "70,730 ratings". The Google logo is prominently displayed. At the bottom of the banner, there are buttons for "Enroll for Free" (which says "Starts Aug 28") and "Financial aid available". A small note at the very bottom says "992,059 already enrolled".
